Don't miss any of the shows in our exciting 2011-12 Season:

AFTER MRS. ROCHESTER, by Polly Teale • Sep 23 - Oct 8, 2011

More than 100 years after Charlotte Brontë penned Jane Eyre, Jean Rhys wrote a prequel from the point of view of the Caribbean-born Mrs. Rochester, the mad wife in the attic. After Mrs. Rochester is the story of the writer, tormented by her demons and her most famous character.

SYLVIA, by A.R. Gurney • Nov 11 - 26, 2011

Burnt-out empty nester Greg finds a stray dog, Sylvia, in a park, and brings her home, much to the dismay of his wife Kate. A hilarious and insightful look at the complex relationship between humans and their canine companions.

THE 24TH ANNUAL NEW IDEAS FESTIVAL • Mar 14 - 31, 2012

THE TROJAN WOMEN, by Euripides,

translated by Gwendolyn MacEwen • Jan 20 - Feb 4, 2012

This season's Countdown to 100 play; previously produced at Alumnae in our 1992/93 season. Focusing on feminism and women's rights, this modern translation breathes new life into an ancient masterpiece.

COSI, by Louis Nowra • Apr 13 - 28, 2012

Touching and insightful comedy from Australian playwright Louis Nowra. An enthusiastic young theatre director's first job is working with patients at a Melbourne mental hospital, and they are determined to perform Mozart's comic opera Così fan tutte. But none of them can sing!
